If you'd like to apply, please send your resume and cover letter to resume.jeffjackson@mail.house.gov, subject line: NC-14 Caseworker/CEO.

MEM-363-23 House Committee on Education and the Workforce (Democratic staff) seeks a Labor Policy Counsel responsible for the portfolio covering labor law.

Candidates should have familiarity with the National Labor Relations Act, the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act, labor enforcement provisions in trade agreements, and employment arbitration. Candidates should also have knowledge of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), the Department of Labor's Office of Labor-Management Standards (OLMS) and the International Labor Affairs Bureau (ILAB).

Applicants should have a law degree and experience working with an organization, Congress, or government agency related to labor law. Duties will include supporting the development of legislation, providing technical assistance to the Committee and Member offices, researching pertinent issues, preparing written materials and legislative analyses, and supporting the execution of committee proceedings and events related to labor law. Salary commensurate with experience.

To apply, applicants must submit a resume and two short writing samples to E&L.Jobs@mail.house.gov with "Labor Policy Counsel" in the subject line. The office is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, gender identity, or sexual orientation. Diverse backgrounds are encouraged to apply.

MEM-360-23 Speechwriter

Congressman Glenn Ivey (MD-04) seeks a gifted writer with a strong sense of history and a knowledge of and familiarity with the great orators and speeches of our time. Responsibilities include drafting remarks for events and the floor; drafting and editing correspondence to constituents and federal agencies; and drafting statements for social media and press, including Op-Eds.

The ideal candidate is a self-starter aware of the major issues and debates dominating the floor and capturing the public imagination. We are seeking someone who can generate ideas and develop clean, quality, and prompt drafts for One Minutes on a weekly basis, as well as delve into longer-form remarks out in the district that eschew platitudes but are strengthened by data and detailed policy solutions.

A successful candidate need not have a depth of expertise in any one area but a working knowledge of many areas, a well-informed student of current events who is naturally curious and constantly learning. The position would additionally involve working on a portfolio of issues – meeting with advocacy groups in those areas and assisting the legislative team as projects come up – but an applicant should consider themselves a writer first and foremost. Knowledge of the district is a plus.

Job title and pay will be commensurate with work experience. We are open to negotiation on whether the role can be full time or part time; whether it can be remote or in person. Please submit a cover letter, resumé, two-to-three references, and a writing portfolio (as many samples as you are proud to showcase) to md04resumes@gmail.com with the subject line: “Full Name – Speechwriter.” We will accept applications until the position is filled.

Working for this freshman office represents an opportunity to build something dynamic and enduring from the ground up, particularly for a Member of Congress who is a great communicator and cares deeply about the well-being and professional development of his staff.

Candidates of diverse backgrounds are encouraged to apply, and this office is an equal-opportunity employer that does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, disability, military status, age, marital status, or parental status.

MEM-359-23 Legislative Assistant/Counsel

Congressman Glenn Ivey (MD-04) seeks a seasoned legislative staffer for the Washington, D.C., office with a background in matters before the House Homeland Security and Judiciary Committees, preferably with a knowledge base in oversight and investigations. Candidates with a J.D. degree are strongly encouraged to apply, and experience working on legislation as a permanent staffer for a minimum of two years is required.

The ideal candidate is a student of politics and government who is well-versed in current events and possesses a working knowledge of a diverse array of issues. We are seeking a strong writer, particularly one adept at drafting powerful remarks for the floor, with a track record of successfully developing and advancing legislation, preparing and staffing the Member for committee hearings and markups, and managing a broad policy portfolio.

Responsibilities also include developing and drafting bills, amendments, letters, policy statements, talking points, op-eds, memos, and reports; planning and organizing briefings and other events; managing relationships with local, state, and national stakeholders; tracking legislation; handling vote recommendations; building coalitions of diverse, bipartisan stakeholders to advance legislative priorities; and assisting organizations and constituents in the district with federal matters.

Job title and pay will be commensurate with work experience. Working for this freshman office represents an opportunity to build something dynamic and enduring from the ground up, particularly for a Member of Congress who is a great communicator and cares deeply about the well-being and professional development of his staff.

Please submit a cover letter, resumé, two-to-three references, and a writing sample to md04resumes@gmail.com with the subject line: “Full Name – Legislative Assistant / Counsel.” We will accept applications until the position is filled.
